BENEDICTINE ANNUAL REPORT 2023

respect

Demonstrating the value of respect

Benedictine associates embody the core value of respect through how we interact and treat each other, particularly in our compassionate care for those who are vulnerable and in need.

PRAYER

Loving God,

In love you created each of us
in your own image,
giving us dignity and worth.
Fill us with your love so that as we meet others,
whether someone known to us or a stranger,
we may welcome them as we would Christ.
Help us to be the first to show respect,
eye-to-eye and heart-to-heart.

We ask this in the name of your Son, Amen.

LETTER

Dear Friends,

Benedictine elevated the Core Value of Respect throughout 2023. As a faith-based organization, we wholeheartedly believe that to be a human being is to be made in God's image and likeness. We believe that all persons are children of God. It is because of this belief that respect is not merely a word, but a value to be demonstrated in action throughout Benedictine.

Viewed as both an action and a gift, Respect can either be bestowed or withheld. Respect is a principle of universal human dignity and is a cornerstone of Catholic identity. It is demonstrated through honoring the diverse needs, differences, and spirituality of every person. It shines in a culture that raises the community standard for how we interact and care for one another, particularly in our compassion and care for those who are vulnerable and in need.

The focal point of this year’s emphasis on Respect derives directly from The Rule of St. Benedict, chapter 72. In this chapter, Abbot Benedict implores his fellow monks to “be the first to show respect to each other,” underscoring the importance of taking the initiative in demonstrating respect. The Rule of Saint Benedict also places foremost importance on Respect, recognizing its role in enhancing self-worth, fostering harmonious living, and serving as an important guide for positive actions.

Instances illustrating the demonstration of respect are abundant across Benedictine, frequently occurring without formal acknowledgment. This annual report highlights a fraction of common examples of respect in action, featuring personal anecdotes of associates who consistently embody this Core Value in their daily lives. Additionally, this report offers a comprehensive overview of noteworthy events, celebrated milestones and achievements, and a recap of the financial performance from the past year.

We extend our sincere thank you to all within Benedictine—associates, residents and their families, volunteers, and friends—for their commitment to the Benedictine ministry of caring for aging adults, offering respect so all may live well and with purpose.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Garland, MD

A Legacy of Generosity

Last year ignited a sincere interest within our community in leaving a lasting legacy. Donors expressed a desire to make a more significant impact, whether during their lifetime or for future generations. In both cases, we were able to assist our donors navigate through their options.

Generosity Sparks Action During Workforce Shortages for Benedictine

At Benedictine, we are dedicated to ensuring our residents receive the best care possible, but in recent times, the growing labor shortage has placed a heavy burden on our communities. We're thrilled to announce an initiative that will address this challenge.

The International Nurse Aide Pipeline (INAP) program is a forward-thinking solution aimed at filling the massive nurse aide shortage in our Benedictine Communities. This innovative program brings nurse aide candidates from Taiwan, Vietnam, Thailand, Cambodia, Malaysia and Singapore to join our dedicated team. With this program, we aim to minimize the impact of workforce shortages on our residents and prospective residents. While we have pursued international recruitment in the past, this program has the potential to create a more disciplined and streamlined approach through technology and a collaboration of partners committed to serving our residents.

The INAP program is designed to transform the lives of aspiring caregivers and, in turn, positively impact the quality of care provided to our beloved residents. But, this program comes with its own set of costs, including training fees, immigration fees and placement fees.

The total amount needed for each nurse aide is approximately $15,500. A generous gift received from the Gabrielson Family Foundation for $50,000 will play a pivotal role in developing the INAP program. This gift will not only train one international nurse aide but also set the stage to cover the $3.1M needed to fully staff our communities.

The Gabrielson Family Foundation's kind contribution is a significant step toward achieving this goal, and we invite all members of our Benedictine family to be a part of the solution.

This program not only strengthens our workforce but also upholds the values that guide us. By supporting aspiring caregivers, we continue to create Benedictine Living Communities where health, wellness, and choice come to life, ensuring that our residents receive the care and attention they deserve.

We thank the Gabrielson Family and all our supporters for their unwavering commitment to our mission, and we look forward to the positive impact this program will bring to our Benedictine Communities.

Together, we can make a difference and continue to create inclusive communities that support those we serve to live well and with purpose, with special concern for the underserved.
